

EPRG Energy & Environment Seminar Programme

Lent Term 2021

Tuesdays at 2-3pm

*Online-only events this term – please contact EPRG Administrator
(eprgadm@hermes.cam.ac.uk) for details*

- |             |  |
|-------------|--|
| 19 January  | Monica Giuletti (Loughborough University) A novel approach to marginal emissions factors: Evidence from the UK and Italy                           |
| 26 January  | Tony Roulstone (Cambridge University) Economics of small reactors: From a series of one-off projects to a program of production-engineered systems |
| 2 February  | Zeina Hasna (EPRG, Cambridge University) The grass is greener (and richer) on the other side: Evidence from the United States                      |
| 9 February  | Adam Hutchinson (Ofgem) Information asymmetries in price controls and emerging issues in electricity distribution                                  |
| 16 February | Melissa Lott (Columbia University) Accelerating the energy transition: The power sector  |
| 23 February | Iivo Vehviläinen (Aalto University) Do consumers gain when new technologies improve the efficiency of goods trade?                                 |
| 2 March     | Mark Lewis (BNP Paribas) Green hydrogen and the EU Emissions Trading System  |
| 9 March     | Luca Taschini (Edinburgh Business School) Flexibility premium of emissions permits   |

Seminar organizer: Robert Ritz (rar36@cam.ac.uk)